Butterfly

Jan Neuhaus

Benmore Castle, 26.3.2005-04-03

This song was written during a song writing workshop with Stan Graham. I wrote the first line and the result of a writing game nearly immediately led to the first verse and a theme…

  Em   Dm G   Em   Am   Dm G   Em
There is a wolf inside my soul, that kills all the love before it could grow
     Dm   G   Em   Am
My dreams are crushed and hopes left low
     Dm   G   Em   A
I'm drowning beneath a wave of sorrow
         F   G   C   A   A^{4}
But Your butterfly fingers gave me tomorrow

       G   A   F#m
Chorus: Your sunlight eyes
      G   A   D   G
      Your ocean of listening
    Em F#m   Bm
    I   know   there are lies
      G   D A   G   G Dm G Dm G Em
      But today - ||: You saved my tomorrow :||

  Em   Dm G   Em   Am   Dm G   Em
There is a dark inside my soul, that makes all joy   seam out of time
     Dm   G   Em   Am
The sleep is no longer a good friend of mine
     Dm   G   Em   A
I'm dreaming beneath a blanket of sorrow
         F   G   C   A   A^{4}
But Your butterfly words gave me tomorrow

Chorus

  Em   Dm G   Em   Am   Dm   G   Em
There is a room inside my soul, that hides the beast that once was so strong
 Dm   G   Em   Am
You tamed my fear, proved my being wrong
    Dm   G   Em   A
I'm singing again, forget all the sorrow
      F   G   C   A   A^{4}
Your butterfly dreams gave me tomorrow

Chorus